

Volunteer with Norwood

Volunteers are a vital resource for Norwood. We welcome and value their involvement and appreciate the unique and special contribution they make in enabling the people we support to live the lives they want.

What happens when I become a volunteer?

You will receive an induction to your role and to Norwood so that you can see how your time will benefit both us and the people we support.

We'll also provide you with:

- Additional training if you undertake certain roles
- Feedback and support
- Reimbursement of your travel costs if required
- A volunteer profile available online
- Invitations to social volunteering events and networking activities

Our volunteers help in a variety of different services:

Working with Children

We need volunteers to help in our family centre support groups, our educational services, our nursery, and to work directly with families. Our centres are well equipped and we have attained a reputation for excellence, so you will be part of a highly motivated team.

Working with Adults with Learning disabilities

We need volunteers to help our residents in their own homes or homes that we manage, to support them at work or in a wide range of social activities.

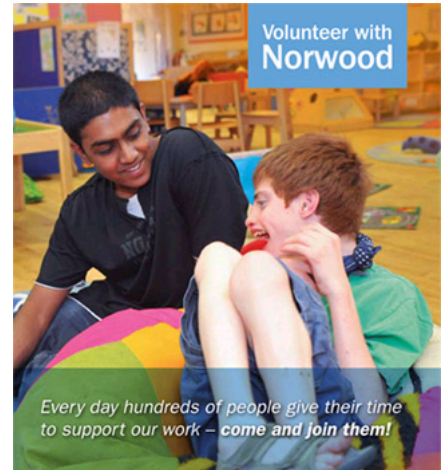

Retail and Social Enterprise

We have a number of trading outlets that help us both raise funds and provide opportunities for people with learning disabilities to gain skills in retail and production.

Employee volunteering and pro-bono support

Undertake team projects and events through your company – such as decorating or organising outings for our clients - or donate your professional skills on a pro bono basis. Contact us for more information.
